MORRISVILLE AND HYDE PARK.

L. H. LEWIS, EDITOR.

Prosperity is here to stay. If disaster comes it will be "psychological," not "logical," are the words used by Secretary Shaw in his recent address at Chicago.

The successful man doesn't waste a minute in waiting for the right opportunity to come along. He goes gunning for it. Oftener than not he finds it through the advertising columns of a live newspaper like the News and Citizen.

Bryan has swallowed Clark who is seeking Hanna's place in the United States Senate, yet admitting that he would have preferred selection of someone who had been active and earnest in the support of all the planks of "our platform."

The outing of the Fish and Game League last Friday was one of the best in its history. President Fish and Secretary Thomas worked early and late to make the affair the success it was. To them are all who had the privilege of enjoying the event under great obligations.

Several of the members of the Vermont Press Association were guests of L. M. Hays of the Essex Syndicate at the Burlington Carnival last Friday night. The party was "chaperoned" by President Parker of the Bradford Opinion. Brer. Hays, who managed the Carnival, took excellent care of the press, and all hands enjoyed the occasion hugely.

The state legislature of Pennsylvania having designated bullfrogs as "game" and July and August as the only months in which they may be caught, frog hunters made big money during that time. In Berks county large shipments were made to Philadelphia and other cities, and it is said that farmer boys made from $50 to $100 a month. Good-sized frogs commanded prices ranging from $1.50 to $2.00 a dozen.

Elsewhere we publish an interesting article from the Burlington Free Press on "Fish and Game Politics." Our readers will be interested in its perusal, especially because it mentions Hon. C. H. Stearns of Johnson and Hon. R. W. Hulburd of Hyde Park as among those in the list for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor. We do not believe either of these men were to get into a contest with each other, or anybody else, for this honor and while either would feel complimented with the nomination were it to come unsought, they would not want if it is to come by a contest.

It will be interesting to Masons to know that in Rhode Island there are eleven lodges more than one hundred years old, a record we believe unequalled by few, if any, other states. Speaking of Masonic lodges, many members have often wondered why there is no national grand lodge. They will be interested to learn that in the year 1790 an effort was made throughout this country for such a lodge in order that George Washington might be the first Grand Master. The death of President Washington a few years later put an end to the plan, a plan which had it materialized would have been a strong factor in Masonry throughout this country.

The Vermont Press Association is to be re-organized. A movement in that direction was started at the recent Fish and Game meeting. There is no reason why the newspaper men of this state should not have an organization that pertains to the welfare of the craft, one that will be productive of both pleasure and profit. In the early days of the old association such was the case. The records show many meetings that were not only pleasurable outings, but were profitable in the presentation of papers and addresses upon topics in which the association was directly interested. We believe every newspaper man in the state is anxious that the organization be revived and will hail with pleasure any report that the committee appointed for that purpose may make in that direction.

Judge Brewer.

Undoubtedly one of the best, if not the best, addresses ever given before the Fish and Game League, was that last Friday at Fort Frederic by Judge Brewer of the U. S. Supreme court. It was interesting from beginning to finish. The strong plea for the preservation of fish and game, and the admonition to "never destroy fish and game for the fun of it," were points well made and heartily received. But his closing words suggested by the ruin of the fort, were in advocacy of peace among men and nations. He said:—

We stand to day in the ruins of Fort Frederic. We have been told its history and how it cost $10,000,000. Grass is now growing over these ramparts, and this shows that all war is ruin. This is prophetic of the future. To my notion there is something mightier than an army, grander than troops. Notwithstanding the wars of recent years and the magnificent results accomplished he said he believed the real glory of this country is not in its army and navy, not in its colossal commercial enterprises. He believed its highest destiny and glory is to be in the manhood and womanhood it develops. We live to make a nation of men and women that will stand before the world a living story. Peace and its methods will accomplish these magnificent results.

His hearers were spellbound by the eloquent address, and at its conclusion rose to their feet in honor of the worthy jurist. His words made a strong impression and long will they be remembered by those who heard them.

Some doubt has been expressed as to the proper way to pronounce the word "chauffeur," as applied to the man employed to run a motor carriage. It is a French word and means "fireman," and is pronounced "sho-fur," with the accent on the last syllable.

A South Dakota man thinks he has solved the problem of aerial navigation. He thinks so, note the word. The authorities at Washington have allowed his application for a patent. The aeroplane idea is employed, for there are a canopy wing and rotary kite sails, with automatically working valves on the canopy wings, which open when the others are closed and shut when the rotary wings work in opposition to each other, and the former are supported to hold for a moment the buoyancy that is gained by the latter.

They went from there to Hightate Springs for a week's outing and were accompanied by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Herring. Mrs. Opie has a large circle of friends here who wish her a happy and prosperous life.
Little Mary Bruce had the misfortune Saturday, while her mother was mopping the floor, to step backward and sit down on the mop, tipping it over on to her and scalding her quite badly. The doctor was called and no serious damage, they thought, would result from the accident, but Monday morning very suddenly and unexpectedly she passed away. It is a blow to the afflicted parents and every near relative. She was a child loved by all for her bright cunning ways. The all-merciful God has the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Fish and Game Politics.

[From the Burlington Free Press.]
It has come to be taken for granted that when two or three hundred Vermonters are gathered together, political discussion will be indulged in, particularly if a state campaign is dangerously near, that is dangerous for the candidates. The meeting of the Vermont Fish and Game League was no exception to the rule, even if the gathering took place on the soil of the Empire State. Indeed, if it is permissible to betray an open secret, some of those in attendance were apparently more ready to talk politics when on the New York shore of Lake Champlain than when at home. It should not be understood that there was any slate making; for things are too much in the air in this stage of the political game in Vermont, but advantage was taken of the sunshine of the occasion to make a little political hay.

The friends of Lieut.-Gov. Stanton were probably more in evidence than those of any other man who has been discussed as a gubernatorial possibility; and there was not a little willingness manifested to disregard the idea that the election of a man for second place should bar him from gubernatorial preferment.

Not a few of those present at the banquet would favor the nomination of the Hon. William E. Johnson of Wolcott, while others, who were outspoken in their advocacy of the nomination of J. A. DeBoer of Montpelier, talked of the Hon. C. J. Bell. Probably a third of those who were present on the subject thought that had crystallized in favor of no particular man in connection with the league, and this is unquestionably the case at the present time.

If any marked sentiment in favor of the retention of the governorship on the west side of the mountain for another year has taken form it certainly failed to find any noticeable degree of open expression among the representative men present from different parts of the state. On the other hand there were not a few expressions of opinion to the effect that the east side should be given recognition as usual inasmuch as any one clamorous on this side of the mountain would need but two years.

A number of names were discussed in connection with the nomination of lieutenant-governor, the list including the Hon. Charles P. Smith, president of the Burlington Savings bank, Dr. J. A. Mead of Rutland, the Hon. Charles H. Stearns of Johnson and the Hon. Roger W. Hulburd of Hyde Park. The statement was made that Dr. J. E. Thompson of Rutland might possibly be a candidate.

So far as learned there is no movement to disturb either State Treasurer John L. Bacon, Secretary of State F. G. Fleetwood or State Auditor Horace F. Graham.
The United States senatorship came in for its share of consideration, and it is safe to say that if the sentiment expressed at the fish and game banquet, both in private discussion and in the opinion throughout the state, our people will be only too glad to continue to avail themselves of the efficient services of Senator Redfield Proctor.

Morrisville Butter Market.
While the Boston market has not been active the past week all desirable lots have been taken at full quotations. Nothing but assorted and most fancy lots have shown any advance and that but slight. Local prices still remain unchanged as follows: Very best separator dairy, 13¢; cents; very best small separator dairy, 15 to 17¢; off grades and odd lots, 14 to 15¢; prints and 2¢ pound boxes a trifle higher.

Consumption.
Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

The Sunday school picnic at Lake Eden last Saturday was a decided success in every particular. The day was sublime and the attendance large. C. O. Fields, Ira Ober and Clarence Hayford did the carrying to and from the church with two horse teams. On their return from the pond Mr. Fields came by the way of Paradise Valley, Gilman Garland's, Almon Balch's and other places of note, which made the distance several miles further and the time several hours late. This caused some uneasiness on the part of the loved ones at home. A happier party seldom if ever passed over the hills and through Paradise Valley than they. When they arrived at the light and saw each other face to face, unharmed and happy great joy prevailed. Mr. F. is quite noted for his jokes.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.
Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.
Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.
Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Eight years ago last March it was established here and all that time Calvin Campbell has been the postmaster and not any complaint about the service rendered. It will be strange with it gone, but friends and neighbors, and customers too, can come to the store evenings just the same and enquire of each other "what's the news?"

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.
Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.
Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.
Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.
Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root. Kidney's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Centerville.
Calvin Campbell and wife returned from Barre Tuesday.

Preaching in the school house next Sunday at 3 p. m. by Rev. I. T. Johnson. Those who went to Hardwick Monday heard an able address from our former Centerville boy, Herbert Pape of Barre. The picnic to Eden Pond last Saturday by the Sunday school and their friends was well attended. The day was fine and everybody had a pleasant time. Free delivery commences next Tuesday. The 11 o'clock train, in which the mail will reach here 2 or 3 p. m., does not make it as popular as it otherwise might be. Will Davis and Emma Grimes were married Tuesday. Will has given Oscar Campbell orders to set up the cigars for him, and their friends are entitled to a smoke. The post-office goes out of existence next Monday night. Eight years ago last March it was established here and all that time Calvin Campbell has been the postmaster and not any complaint about the service rendered. It will be strange with it gone, but friends and neighbors, and customers too, can come to the store evenings just the same and enquire of each other "what's the news?"
